

Filly runs into arena wall

Warning - contains graphic images of injury

A few weeks ago, Equine Vet, Hattie Barnes was called out to a 3 month old filly that had unfortunately run into an arena wall. As you can see from the photograph, the wound was very large but thankfully superficial.

Hattie sutured the wounded and placed a drain to help remove fluid from the large dead space between skin and bone.

Wound prior to treatment

Sutured wound with drain

Wound after stitches removed

Thankfully recovery was quick and the patient is back to normal foal life now!

